An Important Ruling By Acting Secretary Spaulding.

WIDESPREAD IN ITS EFFECTS.

Chinese Coming Here from Canada and All Other Chinese Illegally in the China Instead of the Country They Claim to Have Come From - Other Washington Dispatches,

WASHINGTON, June 25 .- Acting Secretary Spaulding has made a ruling in regard to Chinamen that will be widespread in its application. Three Chinamen Tuesday came to Detroit from Canada, and the commissioner intimated that Canada was the country from whence they came, and to which they should be returned. Acting Secretary Spaulding directed that they be returned to China, and in discussing the points raised by the United States commissioner at Detroit, sent the following telegram to the collector there:

The act of Sept. 13, 1888, not in force as treaty named in Section 1, not ratified. Act of Aug. 13, 1890, page 387, statutes at large makes appropriation, specifically for returning to China, all Chinese persons illegally in the United States. It is useless to return them to Canada to come back tomorrow. The above act was expressly made to meet the difficulty. Under it we return unquestioned to China, as the country from whence they came, Chinese coming from Mexico and British Columbia as they make these contiguous foreign countries the avenue for reaching the United States. The attorney general expresses the opinion that this action is directly in line of earrying out the exclusion act for which the appropriation was made. It is the practice on the Pacific coast when court finds Chinamen illegally in the country for the marshal to turn them over to the collector at San Francisco for deportation to China. Department sees no occasion for different practice at Detroit.

HARD-WORKED JUSTICES.

Places on the Supreme Bench Not Sinecures, Despite the Long Vacations. WASHINGTON, June 25.-Assistant Attorney General Maury says: "Chief Justice Fuller's remarks in New York as to the relief which the supreme court needed from the pressure of business upon it has brought out some carping criticism on the fact that the supreme court justices take very long vacations. There are some people who think it is inconsistent for the justices to insist that their docket is very crowded and then take vacations lasting from early spring to late fall, and for a month or more at other parts of the year. But the fact is that no supreme court judge could carry on business in Washington during the heated term. The work would kill him, and, even if he was willing to stay here, the bar of the country would not come here to try cases in a hot-house such as the supreme court room would be. Furthermore, the vacations of the justices is something of a fiction, for they occupy a considerable portion of their vacation in presiding at sessions of the United States circuit court. During the year a supreme court justice does more work and harder work than nine-tenths of the judges of the circuit and supreme benches of the various states."

A WISE ORDER.

Posmaster General Wanamaker Creates a Board of Promotions.

WASHINGTON, June 25 .- Postmaster General Wanamaker has issued an order establishing in the postoffice department a board of promotions, consisting of the chief clerk of the postoffice department, the appointment clerk of the postoffice department, and three clerks of the fourth class, one from the office of the second assistant postmaster general, and one from the office of the third assistant postmaster general, to which shall be referred all questions of promotions in every clerical grade.

The order says that the mode of exexamination shall be subject to the approval of the postmaster general and the results will include health, habits, industry and adaptability to the specific work. The examination in all cases will be competitive. After July 1, a record of each clerk will be kept, and the board of promotions are directed to review these records and report quarterly to the postmaster general whatever in their judgement, based on the records, any reductions or promotions should be made.

CAUSES UNEASINESS.

Are the Indians of Arizona to Cause Another Indian War?

WASHINGTON, June 25.-Interior and war department officials are not a little disturbed over the reports telegraphed by General McCook of the threatened Indian troubles in northwestern Arizona. It has been known for some time that many of the old men of the Moquis tribe were protesting bitterly against the government school system in operation on their reservation, but there had been no fear of hostilities until the dispatches were received. There are at least 30,000 men on the Navajo reservation, and as the majority of them are young bucks an outbreak among them would be a serious affair. among them would be a serious anar.

This reservation adjoins that of the Moquis, and it is known that they are also discontented over the school question.
The war department has telegraphed General McCook to take prompt and vigorous steps to prevent an uprising.

ANYHOW IT RAINED.

Interesting Experiment by Secretary Rusk in a Washington Suburb.

WASHINGTON, June 25 .- The last agricultural appropriation act contained an appropriation of $7,000 to be used in experiments in the production of rainfall. The department is now about to embark in these experiments, having prepared to test practically the theory that heavy explosions cause rainfall.

Tuesday evening a preliminary trial was made and a balloon sent up in the northern suburbs was exploded with great violence amid the clouds. Whether the subsequent down pour of rain later on in the evening was caused by the explosion remains to be determined, and the department will try the experiment on a larger scale to test the efficacy of United States Must Be Sent Direct to this means of breaking summer drouths.

> WHITELAW REID IN TROUBLE. He is Accused of Violating the Centract

> Labor Law. NEW YORK, June 25 .- The Advertiser this morning says: An offense against the anti-contract labor law lwas brought to the attention of the United States District actorney yesterday. which may cost Whitelaw Reid, United States minister to France, $2,000, besides occasioning that diplomat considerable annoyance. He is accused of bringing two marble layers here from Austria under contract to work on his mansion.

The mansion is located in the village of Purchase, Harrison township, West Chester county. It is entirely of granite. The entrance is through a hall seventy feet deep. The walls of this hall are all of marble, with Mosaic frieze above. To put this into place arrangements were perfected sometime ago whereby Joseph Wild and Joseph Bamberger, both of Innspruck, Austria, left their homes and came here to assist in the doing of the work. It is said that the workmen in this country could carry out Mr. Reid's job as well as those in Europe, is not better.

SMELTING LEAD ORE.

Remarkable Development of the Business Near Monterey, Mexico.

WASHINGTON, June 25 .- Advices received by the bureau of American republics indicate that the remarkable development of the business of smelting lead ores in and around Monterey, continues unabated. Previous to the treasury decision, making the lead contained in certain descriptions of Mexican ore dutiable at one and one-half cents per pound, the exportation of mixed silver and lead ores from Mexico into the United States amounted to over 100,000 tons a year.

The ore formerly sent into the United States to be smelted is now treated within Mexican borders. Smelters already in operation in Monterey have a daily capacity of 500 tons of ore. Other works in course of construction will make the smelting capacity equal to nearly half a million tons per annum. It is confi-dently expected that even this enormous capacity will be doubled in the next eighteen months.

It was shown to the 15year old sister by the lad, and while she was examining its structure, it exploded, tearing the flesh off the girl's left hand so badly that it will be necessary to amputate the forefingers and thumb The boy was knocked senseless, and another daughter, who was standing close by, had the flesh of one hand badly lacerated.

CENSUS WORK HINDERED.

Serious Charges Made Against the Leading Officials Under Mr. Porter. PHILADELPHIA, June 25 .- For some time there has been a dissatisfaction between David S. Thompson, chief of the census bureau of manufacturers in this city and the authorities at Washington, growing out of evident efforts on the part of some one at headquarters to suppress a fair showing of the Philadelphia manufacturers.

Last night Mr. Thompson made a statement of the case for the public in which he charges that from the beginning of the work there has been a most persistent effort on the part of the leading census officials under Mr. Porter to hinder the census work, and that they have resorted at times to many devices unworthy of a department taking a complete census.

bility by a Negro, Who is Captured. LEXINGTON, Ky., June 25 .- About 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon a negro entered the home of Mrs. Nannie Miller, aged 65, and attempted to commit an assault upon her: She has been a paralytic for several years, and the black brute choked her into insensibility. Her daughter, who was in an adjoining apartment, heard the noise, and rushed into the room just in time to see the negro disappear. She identified him as Will Young, and he was arrested in the evening. He denies making the assault, and says he was in Mrs. Miller's yard to established the says he was the black does. MR. CHARLES GILPIN, formerly of this city, but now a successful farmer living

In the construction of works of internal improvement Maysville was the pioneer among Kentucky towns. The first turnpike built from the Ohio to Central Kentucky was that from Maysville to Lexington. * * * Over it for many years passed all the traffic between the East and Central Kentucky, while much of the merchandise consumed in all the mountain counties of Eastern Kentucky, and in a large part of Southwestern Virginia, East Tennessee, West North Carolina, and even in Northern Georgia, was transported in white covered wagons from Maysville. Among the early merchants who were active in the construction of the road and in all business enterprises may be named John were active in the construction of the road and in all business enterprises may be named John Armstrong, James A. Morrison and A. M. January. This turnpike was followed by one to Mt. Sterling and others until Mason County is a network of the finest turnpike roads in the country and Maysville is connected not only by main roads leading into the interior, but by lateral and intersecting thoroughfares with all the adjacent counties of Lewis, Fleming, Nicholas, Robertson and Bracken. The advantage to farmers and merchants of this facility of intercourse at all seasons of the year is inestimable, and thereby the salable value of all lands has been greatly enhanced.

salable value of all lands has been greatly enhanced.

Maysville was also a pioneer in railroad building, and though her early efforts were unsuccesful, yet they conspicuously exhibited the enterprise of her business men. The road from Maysville to Lexington was commenced in 1850; the part from Paris to Lexington was completed, but that from Paris to Maysville was abandoned after a large sum had been expended thereon. Through the sagacity, zeal, intelligence and enterprise of James Barbour the project was renewed in 1867, and amidst many discouragements and not withstanding the incompetency of the management, the road was finally completed in 1872. It is believed by many that had Mr. Barbour, to whom the community is indebted more than to any other one man for the road, continued at its head, the road would still belong to the subscribers, by whose money mainly it was built. As it any other one man for the road, continued at its head, the road would still belong to the subscribers, by whose money mainly it was built. As it was, it first passed into the hands of the bondholders, then into those of the Central Kentucky management, by whom it was sold to Huntington, who recently transferred it to the L. and N. system. It has recently been laid with fine steel rails, and improvements have been made in the road-bed and rolling stock, which add greatly to the comfort of the traveling public. Two trains are daily run to Lexington, that in the early morning connects at Paris with the train from Lexington to Cincinnati, and reaches Lexington in time to connect with the morning train from that place to Louisville. In 1851 Maysville also commenced to build a railroad to the mouth of the Sandy, but this enterprise also met with a collapse. It was renewed in 1871 under the magnificent title of the "Kentucky and Great Eastern Railway Company," which soon came to grief. Then Huntington, alive to the beauty and value of the river route from Cincinnati to the Sandy, put to the project the energies of his shoulder and pocket book, and it now forms part of the great transcontinental route, which stretches its bands of steel from Newport News to San Francisco.

Four trains each way run between Maysville

San Francisco.

Four trains each way run between Maysville and the Queen City, the distance in time between the two places being less than two hours. The commarcial man can leave Maysville after an early breakfast, pass all the business hours of the day in the metropolis of the Ohio Valley and return home in time for the evening meal.

Routes have been surveyed between Maysville and Columbus, O., and it is confidently believed that in time a railroad will be along the line of one of these. These facilities of transportation are nobly supplemented by the grand river which washes our front, bringing us coal, timber. iron, salt, oil, stone and glassware, and all the heavier freights, and carrying away grains, flour, tobacco, cattle, hogs, plows, and the various articles manufactured in our busy town. The White Collar Line supplies us with magnificent daily steamers, and every boat from Pittsburg finds at Maysville one of its most valuable ports.

The White Collar Line supplies us with magnificent daily steamers, and every boat from Pittsburg finds at Maysville one of its most valuable ports.

In 1865, Mr. S. Salomon, an enthusiastic artificer in gold and silver, became impressed with the fact that Maysville needed more light, and set himself to the task of organizing a company to supply the place with gas works. This was quickly done, and the factory was erected by Mr. Jeffries, who became the largest stockholder. The price was at first four dollars per thousand cubic feet to individual consumers, but this was soon lowered. The company steadily declared semi-annual dividends of four per cent., besides improving its property. This excited opposition which culminated in the organization of a rival company, to which was given the contract for lighting the streets. Prices were run down to a point which caused a loss to both of the warring companies. Then the old bought out the new, and now furnishes an excellent quality of gas at $1.50 per thousand cubic feet, with a reduction of twenty-five per cent. to houses which use gas stoves. The streets are well lighted. The stock of the company is capitalized at $45,500, with a bonded debt of $50,000, both bonds and stocks being owned by citizens of the place. Last summer, under an amendment to its charter, the company erected a power-house and added electricity to its works—one of the public benefits springing from the previous competition which has been mentioned. The plant is furnished with two fifty-six four-inch tubular boilers, sixteen feet long and sixty-six inches in diameter; two Brown engines, connected with friction clutches, so that one, or both, of the engines can be used at will. The engines and boilers and appurtenances were made and put up by The I. & E. Greenwald Company, of Cincinnati. The electrical part consists of an incandescent dynamo for 650 lights, and an arc dynamo for thirty arc lights, and an eighty-horse power generator to run the street railroad. The lighting is the Thomson-Houston sys

In return she receives perpetual fire protection, to secure which she retains a first mortgage on all the property of the company. This protection is furnished by means of fire plugs located all over the city at convenient places. It is only necessary to attach a hose to one of these plugs to secure a stream of water which can be thrown, by the force of its own pressure, over the top of the highest building in the city. The plugs are also used to water and flush the streets, a great aid to cleanliness, comfort and health. All of this service is given free in consideration of the bonds. The cost of the works was over $200,000. They carry a bonded debt of $100,000. The stock is owned in Louisville principally. The control and management is absolutely emancipated from the pernicious influence of municipal politics, and all the affairs of the company and the operation of the works are conducted on strictly business principles. A. Schaeffer is the efficient Superintendent. The saving to property-holders in rates of insurance more than equals the interest on the city bonds. The pump-house stands on the bank of the river above the city, whence the water is forced to the top of one of the hills, which lift their heads 330 feet above the narrow bottom on which Maysville is built. of water is afforded for all motive and manufacturing purposes.

Closely following the water works came the street raileoad, which was built by Wm. S. Frank and L. W. Robertson in 1883, and was operated by them until last fall, when they sold out to the present company. Recently the well-nigh wornout horses and mules gave place to electricity, and the old track was torn up and new rails supplied its place. The track extends from the lower corporation line to the cemetery above the city, a distance of three and a quarter miles. The company have four motor cars sixteen feet long, with vestibules, which were made by the Brill Company, of Philadelphia. Forty-pound T-rails are used. The grade is not over four feet to the mile at any point. The principal stockholders are the Cochrans, Ficklins, Coxes, Newton Cooper, S. N. Meyer and their associates. The cars are easily accessible to any part of the city. Thirty years ago the "free schools" of Maysville were an object of contempt. To-day our "Public Schools" engage the attention and elicit ville were an object of contempt. To-day our "Public Schools" engage the attention and elicit the commendation of every citizen who is interested in progress, and the general welfare. There was a time when it derogated from the social standing of the pupil who attended these schools. Now they have well nigh superseded all others; they are filled and attended by the children of the most respectable citizens; their public exhibitions and examinations are attended by throngs of eager listeners, and to hold a front rank in any one of them is regarded as an honor of which the brightest may well be proud. The steady advance onward and upward to a higher standard is due, not only to the efficiency and proficiency of the teachers, many of whom have an experience of more than a score of years in their present positions, but almost equally to were an object of contempt have an experience of more than a score of years in their present positions, but almost equally to the care and zeal of a well selected School Board. From the composition of this Board politics is scrupulously eliminated, and in turn the Board regards only the competency, attainments, and character of those employed as teachers. The policy has been to retain those who prove themselves capable, useful and meritorious, and the the tenure of positions in the schools is made to depend on these qualities, and not upon the results of the annual elections. Thus a tone of stability has been given to the schools, and the teachers, feeling that their subsistence does not depend on cringing to a Councilman, teach in suits of the annual elections. Thus a tone of stability has been given to the schools, and the teachers, feeling that their subsistence does not depend on cringing to a Councilman, teach in their own conduct the virtue of self-respecting independence. Differing in all other subjects, the whole community can be made to rally at any time to the support of the public schools, and for no other purpose does it pay taxes so cheerfully. There are five school districts in the city, each of which has its separate edifice and teachers, male and female. The buildings are creditable, well ventilated, lighted and warmed. The sexes are not separated in the recitation rooms in the district schools. Besides there is a well-regulated and well-taught school for colored children, the teachers in which, male and female, are of the colored race. From the district schools the pupils pass to an intermediate school, which is presided over by Professor Josiah Wilson, with Miss Ella Metcalfe as an assistant. Hence they go into the High School, of which Professor C. J. Hall is Principal in the male department; Miss Fannie I. Gordon, a most efficient teacher, Principal in the female department with Miss Ada Pearl Sutton as an assistant. In the High School the sexes are separated. The Principals of the district schools are H. C. Smith, Hayes Thomas and B. F. Williams. Charles B. Harris is Principal of the colored school. Seventy pupils attend the High School; 120 the Intermediate; 330 the white district schools, and 150 the colored school. In the High School, besides well advanced studies in physiology, history, geography and mathematics, and other branches of English, music, French, German and Latin are taught. "Hayswood Academy" is an institution of which Maysville is justly proud. The Principal, Rev. John S. copal and one Catholic Church in Maysville, all with large memberships, and occupying handsome places of worship. Besides these there are several churches for colored people exclusively. We are a church-going people.

Here the Oddfellows are in a flourishing condition, owning their own magnificent hall, which is one of the handsomest of the kind in the State, and cost $22,000. The membership numbers about 240, and the aggregate wealth of the several organizations is $60,000, mostly in real estate. DeKalb Lodge No. 12, Ringgold Lodge No. 27, Pisgah Encampment, No. 9 and Canton Maysville No. 2, are those which flourish here.

The Masonic fraternity is largely represented in Maysville, is in a most flourishing condition, and vigorously carries on its work of benevolence. The temple occupied by the brotherhood is the most complete in Kentucky, and is in the upper steries of the handsomest building in Maysville. It was erected especially for the order by Wm. H. Cox, our largest owner of real estate, one of our wealthiest citizens, and an enthusiastic Knight.

Before the war the capital of the two banks then in Maysville was $650,000, not $5,000 of which was owned in the city and county. Now the combined capital of the four banks is $660,000, with a surplus of $200,000, every dollar of the stock being owned in Maysville and Mason County. Then the aggregate deposits were not more than $200,000. Now they range from $1,000,000 to $1,300,000. Then there was scarcely a merchant in the place, excepting always the Coxes, who did not transact business on borrowed capital. Now the merchant who does this is an exception to the rule. Our banks pay no interest on deposits and do not deal in shaky paper. They do not encourage wild speculation in Chicago, nor other margins, nor in real estate investments in 'booming' paper towns. But for every purpose of legitimate business and commerce, for moving the productions of the country, they have all the money that is needed or which is ever asked for, and not only extend their credit fr here, in real estate and safe securities where, in real estate and safe securities.

In 1865 the debt of Maysville was $300,000. The bonds could be bought as thirty cents on the dollar. The corporation was absolutely without credit. All the old debt but $8,000 has been extinguished. The city owes $50,000 for water bonds, and $66,326 for railroad purposes $12,4326 in all. Her bonds bring a premium. They are all owned here. The rate of taxation for all purposes is $1.25 on the $100. The assessed vafue of property is $2,384,249. The real value is nearer $6,000,000. The wharves are the best on the river. The population, including the subsurbs, is 8,000. It is a live, active, industrious, wide-awake, enterprising population.

The J. N. Thomas Company, the Poyntz Company and the J. H. Rogers Company are all residents. The tax collected on whisky token out of bond, in Maysville, for the last twelve months was $204,192.90.

The manufacture of cigars is an important Maysville industry; the factories number fifteen; the employes are 200. The product for the past year was 434,885,000, the tax paid was $13,046,55.

We have three large flouring mills. The Pearce Bros. have a capital of $50,000; product, 40,000, barrels per annum; grind about 180,000 bushels, make all their own barrels, employ thirty-three hands in all, at from $1.25 to $5 per day. Their markets are in all the river towns, West Virginia and Virginia. Geo. T. Hunter grinds 100,000 bushels; product, 20,000 barrels annually; makes uis own barrels, employs twenty-two hands; finds a market all along the Ohio and Kanawha Valleys. The Limestone and Old Gold brands of flour are funexcelled in the West. Carr & Tolle grind 50,000 bushels of wheat; product, 10,000 barrels; grind 20,000 bushels of corn. The brand is a favorite.

lion pounds of the weed. We have one auction warehouse, Frazee & Browning. Maysville is the best port for shipping wheat, tobacco, cattle, hogs, sheep and whisky, from Wheeling to Louisville, excepting always Cincinnati.

The county is one of the richest in Kentucky. The local market for meats, vegetables, and all of the necssaries of life, is one of the very best most abundant,, and cheapest. Rents are moderate. There is not much room for speculation; a "boom town" can not well be made of Maysville. It is not a place for making large fortunes suddenly. But its wealth is solid, and is owned at home; its progress is steady, and none of the Kentucky cities above Louisville presents the spectacle of a more busy, bustling, energetic population.

At the meeting of Ringgold Lodge last evening following officers were elected for the ensuing term:

AN ELEGANT PRESENT.

Mr. F. E. Janowitz Handsomely Remembered by the C. and O. and L. and N. Employes.

Mr. F. E. Janowitz, who has been the joint agent of the L. and N. and C. and O. railways for a year or so at this point, and who is about to sever his connection with the roads, was handsomely remembered last evening by the employes under him.

When the young men were informed that Mr. Janowitz was to leave here they determined to do something to show their appreciation of the kindness and gentlemanly conduct of their superior, and concluded to have a beautiful plaque handsomely engraved with the following inscription:

C. AND O. AND L. AND N. RAILWAYS, MAYSVILLE, KY., June 30, 1891.

Mr. F. E. Janowitz: Desiring to express our esteem towards you, and as a memento of the kindness shown us, we, the present employes, beg leave to present you and Mrs. Janowitz this dinner set; and while we regret parting with you, our employer, who has proven so uniformly just in all of your transactions with us, yet we rejoice in learning of your advancement to a position of a higher responsibility; and our best wishes go with you, for all that combines toward your future prosperity and happiness.

"Will W. Wycoff, J. W. Cason, T. J. Boyd, B. C. Stevenson, James Dunn John Lynch. Chas. E. McCarthy, Thomas Dunn John A. Shea. C. J. Collins. Hugh Foley, Caral Winter; Frank Smith. John Cagelly, Joseph Moran, Martin Hanley, L. Maddox."

The employes met at Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Foley's rooms, at the C. and O. It Has Beens office last night at 9 o'clock, and a committee at once called on Mr. and Mrs. Janowitz and invited them to Mr. and Mrs. F.'s apartments. Their surprise can be imagined at finding the gentleman named above assembled there. Mr. John Shea at once stepped forward and presented Mr. and Mrs. F. an elegant dinner set of 119 pieces. He said:

"Mr. Janowitz, allow me on behalf of the boys present to extend to you and your wife our regrets at your departure. we feel we are losing an employer and There Is No Mores friend. Yet we cannot help but rejoice at your promotion. The companies you now represent are losing an able an efficient agent and Maysville a courteous gentleman and good citizen.

"Be assured that we shall cherish no kindlier recollections than that of our COLONEL J. CURTIS SMITH, of Louisville, association with you. And now in our feeble way allow us to present you this gift of our esteem and hope sincerely you will accept it in the spirit in which it is offered. I know I echo the sentiments of all, when I say I hope it will last as long and stand as firm as our friendship for you."

Mr. Janowitz replied briefly and appropriately expressing his thanks for the gift, and his regrets at having to part with such a sociable and gentlemanly set of young men, and at leaving Maysville. He paid a high compliment to all of

A Child's Narrow Escape From Being Ground to Pieces Beneath an Engine.

Clarence Ross, a little two-year-old toddler, had a narrow escape yesterday from being ground to death under a C. and O.

The child's father lives on the southwest corner of Third and Commerce streets, Fifth ward. When the westbound Ashland accommodation came in view of the Commerce street crossing yesterday morning, the engineer, John Spotts, and fellow sitting in the middle of the track

The warning whistle was blown, but Spotts now reversed his engine and turned on the brakes, but the train was too close to be stopped before the child was reached. The speed was checked, but the engine was slowly moving down on the little fellow when fireman Hood jumped to the ground, ran forward and pulled the child from the track just in time to escape the engine.

It was a feat not often done, but an engineer performed a similar deed on a road up in Pennsylvania not long since.

Engineer Spotts, who was in charge of the train yesterday, is a crippled man, and has a wooden leg as the result of an accident on the road a year or so ago.

THERE will be the usual prayer meeting at the Baptist Church to-night, conducted by the pastor.

BISMARCK AND THE KAISER.

Split in the German National Liberal Party-Parnell Takes Out a Special Licease to Marry Mrs. O'Shea-Financial Situation of England - The Omnibus Strike in Paris Settled in Favor of the Strikers-Other Cable News.

PANAMA, June 25. - The Iquique Opinion Nacional, of the 27th ult., publishes a telegram from its Mollendo correspondent to the effect that the congressionalists had entered into a treaty with Bolivia, by which the latter country cedes Antofagasta to Chili in perpetuity, Chili paying the debts contracted by Bolivia in Chili, amounting to $4,600,000.

Bolivia is to be allowed to import free, by way of Antofagasta, while Chilian merchandise is not subjected to higher duties than Chili imports from Bolivia. This news has been partly confirmed by the publication of a decree of the Bolivian government, recognizing the congressionalists as belligerents.

Justin McCarthy to Retire.

DUBLIN, June 25.—The retirement of Justin McCarthy, member of parliament, from the leadership of the Irish party is expected to immediately follow the release from jail of John Dillon. There appears to be a concensus of opinion that Mr. McCarthy, as leader of the Irish parliamentary party, has proved a complete failure. His friends seek to explain this by saying that he has not been able to devote much of his attention to his political duties, and that he has always looked upon his position as leader as of a temporary character. It is claimed that were Dillon to become leader of the Nation-alists, a few more of the Parnellites would come over to the ranks of the great majority of the party.

Financial Situation in England.

London, June 25.—The Daily News, in its financial article, says: The continued drain of gold from America is gradually tending to the inevitable adoption of a virtual giver standard. Gold gradually tending to the mevitable adoption of a virtual silver standard. Good crops may succeed in recovering a portion of £12,000,000 of gold already exported this year, but every year brings nearer the time when silver certificates will be forced into circulation. When the change comes there might be a rush the change comes there might be a rush for silver, but it is more likely that the silver already coined will suffice for cu.rency purposes with paper. Therefore the idea of an unlimited new demand for silver is unwarranted.

Split in the German Liberal Party.

LONDON, June 25.—Berlin advices state that there are serious signs of a split in the National Liberal party on the subject of Bismarck. The National Zeitung, chief organ of the party, shows a marked coolness toward the ex-chancellor, and a disposition to antagonize the supporters of Bismarck in their attitade of uncompromising hostility to-ward the kaiser and his government. It is believed that the result will be a reorganization of political parties in Germany, on new lines in accord with the changed political situation.

Successful Strikers

Paris, June 25.—The Bordeaux omnibus strike has resulted in a victory for the drivers and conductors, who all returned to work yesterday. The municipal authorities promptly modified their agreements with the omnibus company so as to make it possible for the latter to accede to the strikers' demand for a working day of twelve hours. The re-sult not only gives satisfaction to both parties to the struggle and to the people of Bordeaux, but is received with rejoicing in this city.

Parnell to Marry Mrs. O'Shea.

London, June 25.—Mr. Parnell has obtained a special license to marry Mrs. O'Shea. He has been compelled to do this, owing to the delays interposed by his local clergymen in Brighton. He can now be married Thursday. He has intimated that no one is to be present at the ceremony, which will be conducted with the strictest privacy.

London, June 25.-A Berlin dispatch states that the German government is considering the question of abandoning the German possessions in New Guinea and the Bismarck archipelago, those colonies showing no signs of becoming profitable, notwithstanding the expense incurred in their improvement.

Chicago Man Dies at Sea.

London, June 25.—A man named Meyer, said to have been a resident of Chicago, a passenger on the steamer Majestic of the White Star line, which arrived at Queenstown yesterday, became insane on Thursday last and died at sea. The body will be taken to Liverpool.
